$20,000 in marijuana netted in Hancock raid

By ELLIS CUEVAS

A Friday night raid at a residence in the White Cypress-Standard area of Hancock County netted marijuana valued at approximately $20,000, Sheriff Ronald A. Peterson estimated Saturday morning.

Peterson said, "George R. Thompson, 52, and his son Robert G. Thompson, 21, of Route 1, Box 540A, Pass Christian in Hancock, were arrested and charged with possession with intent to sell, deliver, grow and manufacture marijuana.

The sheriff reported his office recently received a tip about the marijuana operation and a search warrant for the residence was issued by Justice Court Judge Bruce Neale. The sheriff's department confiscated 32 zip-lock bags each containing approximately one pound of marijuana, and several large grocery bags containing the contraband. They also found several small plants growing in a hot house behind the residence.

"We suspect the marijuana confiscated may have been grown in the hot house in the back yard. One room in the house appeared to be a drying room. A scale and various other drug items in addition to $1,194 in cash were in the house," Peterson added.

The duo are being held in the Hancock Jail in lieu of $30,000 bond each.

A preliminary hearing is scheduled before Justice Court Judge Lloyd Anderson Dec. 2. Peterson said the case was transferred to Anderson's court. Participating in the arrest with Peterson were Hancock Investigator David M. Smith, Sheriff's Deputy David M. Smith, and agents of the Mississippi Bureau of Narcotics.

A Wednesday night raid in Bay St. Louis netted approximately one pound of marijuana, the sheriff reported.

Peterson said, "Dennis A. Dickenson, 22, 325 1/2 Carroll Ave. in Bay St. Louis was arrested and charged with the possession, intent to sell and deliver marijuana.

Deputies said they received a tip regarding the Carroll Avenue residence and also confiscated numerous yellow capsules believed to be amphetamines which are referred to on the street as 'yellow jackets.' They are awaiting a report from the Mississippi Gulf Coast Crime Laboratory for the possibility of additional charges against Dickenson, Peterson said.

Dickenson is scheduled to appear before Justice Court Judge John Chevris. He was released on a $1,500 bond.

Those participating in that arrest include Peterson, Ladner, and Investigator Delbert Seay. Ladner is in charge of the case.

Hancock authorities are holding Dale Lee Race, 18, of Norwich, Conn. for the alleged theft of a 1976 Ford in Cut-Off, La.

Seay, who arrested Race said, he allegedly sold the vehicle to a person in the county. No bond has been set for Race pending his extradition to Cut-Off, according to Seay.

Bay mayor cracks down on Webb Street dumpers

By BRENT MACEY

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett Friday said he has assigned a police officer to patrol in the vicinity of the Webb Street Dump seven days a week, 24 hours a day, and given the patrolman instructions to ticket anybody caught dumping in the area.

He stated he believed the maximum fine is $100.

The mayor had informed the city council Tuesday that such action would be taken.

At the meeting he cited several reasons behind increasing law enforcement efforts in the area.

"On Oct. 31, the fire department answered six calls," he told the councilmen.

"On the first of this month they had two; and on Nov. 6, there were three more calls at the Webb St. Dump. On the seventh there were at least two calls there anyway," he stated.

Bennett said, "The roads into the dump are completely blocked with garbage and you can't even get in to fight a fire."

He suggested having the city barricade the entrance to the dump. But the councilmen noted this might be illegal since the property is privately owned.

They suggested the mayor postpone that action until meeting with Joseph Gay, city engineer.

The council then authorized the mayor to take whatever action possible to remedy the problem.

Bennett explained he had contacted the Hancock County Health Department after the city declared the dump a health hazard over a year ago.

He said the health department contacted the State Health Department and the department said the problem is under the jurisdiction of the Mississippi Department of Natural Resources, Bureau of Pollution Control, Bennett said.

Bennett said he contacted that bureau which mailed a letter Oct. 16 to Don White, owner of the land being used as a dump, requesting the dump be closed immediately and the site be covered with soil within 15 days after receiving the letter.

Bennett said he went to the dump Nov. 9, "and it was in worse condition then it was before."

He said he contacted the BPC about the problem again and the bureau officials said they would send another letter.

"We have to do something," Bennett said. "The state is apparently dragging its feet."

Also at the meeting the council declared the city well on Leonhard Avenue an emergency situation and authorized hiring a firm to photograph inside the well to determine what the problem is.

After the meeting Eddie Favre, city clerk, said the pump has burned out several times and currently needs repairing again.

He said the sand is being pumped up out of the well with water.

He noted the well was declared an emergency situation since it services some customers.

In other business, the council approved having an attorney present at the next meeting of the Planning and Zoning Board to discuss a beach front building ordinance for the city.

The council contacted the board last month and requested it recommend an

Waveland aldermen ok mayor's fire department appointments

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen Wednesday night unanimously ratified Mayor John Long's recommendations to fire chief assistant chief and honorary chief.

Donald M. McIntyre, 55, of 146 Waveland Ave. will be Waveland Fire Department chief. He will replace the late Kenneth Favre who recently suffered a fatal heart attack.

McIntyre and John Long are now both assistant chiefs of the Waveland Volunteer Fire Department.

Chief of Engineer and a quality assurance engineer at the National Space Technology Laboratories for Ball and part-time patrolman with the Waveland Police Department.

McIntyre is a Hancock County Emergency Medical Services District. He was previously employed as a quality and safety manager for Global Associates, NSTL and has worked for various companies in Alabama, Louisiana, Florida and California. He has been married 22 years. The Waveland native has resided in Waveland for the last 17 years, been a Waveland volunteer 14 years, president of that group 10 years and a member of the Waveland State University in Detroit, Mich. and has participated in various job training courses.

Long was appointed chief Friday and will maintain his position as chief until the new chief is appointed.

Long was married to the former Mrs. Mary Ann Long. They have three children: John, 17, and two daughters, 15 and 13.

Long was born in Waveland, Miss., and has lived in Waveland for the last 17 years.

Long was a member of the Waveland Fire Department for the last 14 years.

It helps in a lot of ways to shop at home

The Holiday Season is upon us and many folks still have to do their Christmas shopping.

More and more items are available in Hancock County each year, making it more attractive to shop at home.

A person can purchase just about any kind of present in local stores and at the same time help the Hancock County economy.

A dollar spent in Hancock County turns over many times helping the area to grow.

Local merchants have a wide selection of items for all ages and really appreciate their neighbors shopping with them.

One must remember the cost of fuel today, and by shopping at home, a person can make a big savings in that one area alone.

We hope everyone will have a good time shopping for this Christmas. Of course we know it will probably be a strain on the old pocketbook. Many of our residents take advantage of the Christmas Savings Accounts offered by our financial institutions and prepare by putting away a little each week.

This is a good way to think about now preparing for the next Christmas Season.

Bits 'n pieces

Congratulations are in order for Donald (Don) McIntyre, on his being named Waveland's new fire chief, and Gerald (Rusty) Price on being selected as the department's first assistant chief. Rusty is the acting chief until Jan. 1 when the men will assume their new titles.

We have known both of these fine people for many years and are sure they will continue the same traditions and type of leadership as the late Chief Kenny Fayard.

We are happy also to hear that Mrs. Marilyn Fayard, who is the interim honorary fire chief until Jan. 1 will be a clerical worker for the fire department which grew under the leadership of her late husband.

As we have mentioned before, we have seen the Waveland Fire Department grow from its infancy, and it has come a long way.

We received a call from Mrs. Perry Gibson telling us that her daughter, Angela Jaidaglan, who lives in New Smyrna Beach Fla., saw the Space Shuttle Columbia from her yard as it was recently launched.

She also observed the space shuttle on its re-entry while she was in flight on a Delta Airline, for whom she works as an airline stewardess.

It is amazing how people from this area seem to be all around the world.

As the old saying goes, 'it is a small world', and this seems to be coming more true each day.

CONSUMER REPORT

BILL ALLAIN, ATTORNEY GENERAL

WARRANTIES

Attorney General Bill Allain says that it is always to your advantage to compare written warranties when shopping for all types of goods and services.

Allain states that it has become much easier for consumers to do this because of a federal regulation which went into effect January 1, 1977. The regulation states that products costing more than $15 shall have their warranties available for inspection prior to their sale.

Also all products that cost more than $10 must have their warranties labeled as either "full" or "limited."

Under the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act, a defective product manufactured after July 4, 1975 with a warranty labeled "full" must be fixed within a reasonable amount of time and without charge to the customer for parts and labor.

Furthermore, the law states that the warrant cannot impose any unreasonable conditions on a consumer for getting something fixed under warranty unless the condition is approved by the Federal Trade Commission.

For example, it is considered unreasonable for a consumer to be required to pay for shipment of a piano or similar bulky object to the factory for repairs. The merchant can, however, require that the customer notify the warrant in the case of a defect before starting plans to sell. Finally, the customer must be offered a refund or replacement if a reasonable number of attempts to repair the product fails, and has not been decided yet what should be considered reasonable.

If you have a complaint, contact the store manager first. If the complaint is not settled at that level, write to the manufacturer.

All warranties that offer anything less than the above stated requirements must be designated as "limited." For example, if you bought a product with a warranty that covered parts, but not labor, the warranty would be labeled "limited." And should the product ever need servicing, you would be responsible for all labor costs.

In some instances, this could be quite expensive. Therefore, you should always check the terms of a "limited" warranty before you buy. But remember, it is usually best to buy a product with a full warranty whenever possible.

Listed below are some important factors that you should look for in a written warranty:

—Is the name and address of the warrant provider?

—To whom is the warranty extended—the original owner or all owners during the warranty's lifetime?

—What exactly is covered by the warranty—the entire product or just certain parts. How about labor?

—Are there any exclusions covered by the warranty?

—Is there anything you have to do to maintain the product to keep the warranty valid? Do you have to use a certain brand of oil or a certain type of filter?

—If you have a complaint, what steps should you take? Do you have to return the product to the store or the manufacturer?

—Remember, read before you buy. A warranty is a contract. It is a promise that the product will be fixed or replaced if it fails within a certain period of time.

Senator Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT:

Older Americans Act

I am pleased to report that the Senate has passed a bill to reauthorize the Older Americans Act for three more years.

When this Act was first adopted by Congress in 1965, it was intended to create federal service programs to help improve opportunities for older citizens for meaningful community activity as well as to provide special services for those who must live on small incomes or pensions.

Included in the law are programs covering a wide range of services, such as transportation, home health care, homemaker services, nutrition, recreation, home repair, legal counseling and other assistance.

There is no doubt in my mind that this ambitious undertaking has made life more enjoyable, more worthwhile, for many older citizens in Mississippi.

I remember with pleasure when I was in the House of Representatives, serving on the Select Committee on Aging, that the first two public buildings renovated for use as senior citizens centers were located in our state at Pontotoc and Natchez.

Visiting those facilities one could readily see the new lease on life for many that resulted from having a place for fellowship, games, interesting programs and congregate meals.

Other gathering places now exist in schools, churches and otherwise unused buildings. It is always a pleasure for me to drop by such sites and find out first hand how the programs are working.

The bill we have adopted contains some modifications, designed to make the programs more responsive to the needs of older citizens throughout America.

Individual states will be given greater discretion in allocating the funds made available for programs authorized by this act.

With more flexibility, with less red tape and paperwork, the states should be able to more effectively administer programs for senior citizens. In Mississippi, for example, older residents have needs and interests that differ to a great degree from those in more densely populated states.

One of the more important contributions to our state has been the nutrition program, with a number of senior citizens centers providing meals for elderly citizens.

Improved job opportunities and community service type job placement are encouraged by the new act. I know that many of our senior citizens still want to be active, and continue productive lives, and there are numerous tasks that can be performed if encouragement and direction are provided.

This year about three million persons will participate in the nutrition programs and another 9 million in community services.

Another facet of the program is the home energy of weatherization effort for low income and elderly citizens. Just a few days ago, the Department of Health and Human Services awarded a grant of over $2.5 million to the state of Mississippi for this home energy assistance.

There are almost 400,000 senior citizens in Mississippi, and state officials indicate that total participation in all the programs for older Americans is over 200,000. From these figures one can see the need for sound programs to help our senior citizens and the vital role the Older Americans Act has played in our state in the past few years.

I hope that Congress can complete final action on this legislation promptly so our state can continue to enjoy the benefits it provides.

It was my honor and privilege to be presiding officer in the Senate the day we debated and passed this bill. With its adoption, the Senate has re-emphasized its strong commitment to helping meet the needs of older persons in our country.

Storing nuclear waste in outer space a frightening proposal

Editor:
Sea Coast Echo

Sear Sir:

In the letter Mr. Small wrote on 11-1-81 in the Sea Coast Echo, he suggested the use of a shuttle to dispose of nuclear waste in outer space.

Well, I'll tell you one thing: the shuttles are man-made, and in time will rust decay.

If this nuclear waste in the shuttle in some way or other leaks out, the whole world would be covered with this nuclear poison.

There goes the human race.

What's wrong with us, Mississippians? We aren't creators of nuclear waste, so why pick on us and our neighboring states?

Sincerely,
Iris M. Koerner

Mention of Hargett's state of undress offensive to reader

To the Editor

Dear Sirs,

I am writing this letter in regard to the Hargett tragedy.

I wonder if it was necessary to mention the attire that Mr. Hargett was wearing at the time of this tragedy.

What he was wearing or not wearing did not lessen the tragedy.

Would it have been written if he had on green pants and a yellow shirt?

I think not. If the person who wrote the article would have taken into consideration all the children involved, they would have thought twice about the attire the deceased man was wearing.

I personally found that statement very offensive. I want to say that I don't know any of the people involved, and I think that the children's feelings could have been spared now and at a later date.

After all, this is the Sea Coast Echo and not the National Enquirer.

Sincerely,
Helen Barkley

Highway Patrol set for longest holiday

Mississippi's Highway Patrol Officers are bracing for the longest holiday this year—the 102-hour Thanksgiving period.

Patrol Chief Donald Butler said all day off and leaves have been cancelled in an effort to put the maximum number of troopers on the state's highway system during the Thanksgiving season.

This is traditionally a dangerous time of year to travel, the Patrol Chief said. With days shorter, more darkness, and oftentimes bad weather covering the state.

Butler said that two years ago, 12 people died in traffic accidents and eight were killed in 1980.

"We urge all people who will be traveling on the highways and roads during this holiday season to leave early, abide by the 65 mile per hour speed limit, avoid consuming alcoholic beverages, and obey all traffic laws and regulations," he said.

Butler said that the Highway Patrol's Traffic Enforcement personnel would mount a maximum enforcement effort to reduce accidents and deaths on the highways.

He urged citizens to assist officers by obeying the law.

Tiger defense defeats St. Martin 10-7

By ELLIS CUEVAS
A strong Bay High defensive effort led the Tigers to a 10-7 defeat of the St. Martin Yellow Jackets in the 7th Annual Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl Saturday.

The Tiger defense went to work on the kick-off, when a St. Martin back had the ball bounce off his chest and it was recovered by David Palmisano on the Yellow Jacket 24 yard line.

The Tiger offense went to fourth and two when Van Fayard booted a 35 yard field goal giving Bay High a 3-0 lead with 9:56 in the first quarter.

The Tigers second score came as the second quarter ended on a pass interception by Ronald Carter.

Only six seconds were left in the half, when Yellow Jacket quarterback Jeff Webb passing from deep in his own territory was picked-off by Carter on the 25 yard line as the buzzer sounded, and he went in untouched for a Tiger score.

Fayard added the extra point as the Tigers carried a 10-0 halftime lead to the locker room.

Head Coach Snuffy Smith had high praises for his defensive squad as the game ended.

Smith said, "We had a hard working defense, they played a good game."

The majority of the Tigers play both offense and defense. Bay High failed to capitalize on another fumble recovery by Charles Hawkins late in the first quarter.

The best Tiger defensive effort came late in the first half when St. Martin was stopped cold on three plays from a second and goal from the one yard line.

Three Yellow Jacket cracks at the Tiger stone wall failed to cross the goal line. St. Martin turned the ball over to the Tigers on downs at the six inch line with six minutes left on the clock.

The quarterbacking chores for the Tigers were shared by Palmisano and Curtis Thomas.

The Tiger offense showed some bright moments several times with the running of Palmisano, Walter Ross, and Ronald Carter, but stuttered on the long haul.

Smith stated, "Our offense was a little inconsistent at times, if we could have got going, we would have run St. Martin out of the ball park."

St. Martin's only score came on a series of passes from Webb to Mike Hill who grabbed the last pass on the two yard line and pulled over the goal line dragging a Tiger.

The PAT gave the Tigers a 10-7 lead with 3:34 left in the contest.

A good kick-off by St. Martin but the Tiger offense in business in their own 21 yard line.

Carter picked up three yards, Ross 10 for a first down. Ross then carried four time in a row.

The fourth run was a beauty as he stumbled across the scrimmage line and picked up 16 yards as the clock winding down for a first down.

Ross carried the last play of the game with the ball setting on St. Martin's 44 yard line as time expired.

The defense of the Tigers sacked several St. Martin plays for losses.

Wingback Tony Bennett got very little running room, as he was swarmed by Tigers.

He did manage to pick up several first downs, but suffered quiet a few losses.

Webb completed several passes but got strong pressure from Tiger rushes.

Two long passes, one by the Palmisano and the other by the Webb were broken up by tremendous defensive plays by the respective defenses.

Sunny skies greeted the fans for the contest played on a field which looked like it was ready for the opening game of the season.

The excitement kept both Tiger and Yellow Jacket supporters on the edge of their seats.

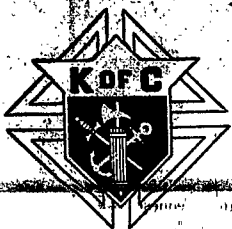

Smith said, "I felt the two week lay-off did not help our offense as we slowed ourselves down several times."

The Tigers topped their season's record to 7-4 and St. Martin ending the 1981 season with a 6-5 record.

The Bay High Tiger, Pride Band, under the direction of Glen Page entertained at halftime.

Knight's notes

Tomorrow night we will have our second meeting for the month of November. The meeting, postponed from last Monday, will begin at 7:30 p.m. The Grand Knight asks that all members make an effort to attend the meeting.

A special presentation is scheduled for the meeting by the Grand Knight to Hancock Industries of monks raised by the Council during its successful Tootsie Roll Drive held earlier this year. A number of Knights collected the money, one weekend by soliciting donations from individuals at shopping centers and from private businesses. This is an example of the cooperation of the Council and the community which it proudly serves.

Have you received your Christmas party invitation for Saturday night, Dec. 12? You may have noticed that we are asking for a five dollar donation. This money will go to the Council program for the needy at Christmastime. Please come to the party, enjoy the social fraternity of our organization, and contribute to a worthy cause.

The Perse Le Duc Council extends its wishes for a joyous Thanksgiving to all and asks everyone to join in as we express our gratitude to the Lord for all he has given us.

LONG GAINER—David Palmisano, No. 12, makes a long gain for Bay High around left end in the Wendell Ladner Memorial Bowl Saturday. Organization names Breaux president

The Central Hancock Recreation Organization has named Louis J. Breaux IV of Kila the 1982 president of the organization.

Among principal functions of the organization is operation of the Hancock County District Four Ball Park for the county.

Other new officers, elected at a special meeting of the group Nov. 9, are M. J. Necaise of Rocky Hill, vice president; C. J. Cameron of Kila, vice president; for community affairs; Buck Williams of St. Williams, vice president for recruiting; and Marilyn Necaise of Rocky Hill secretary-treasurer.

Breaux noted the park, on Hwy. 43 just west of Hwy. 603 is open to the public seven days a week for a variety of activities and includes free shaded picnic area with tables.

He said park users must secure prior approval from a special committee of the recreation organization which meets on the first Monday of each month at the District Four Community Center near the park at 7 p.m.

The committee meetings are open to the public, Breaux added.

For additional information, contact Breaux at 255-7153 or write to the committee at POB 2218, Kila, 39568.

JSU hosts Alcorn on Thanksgiving Day

Webster defines Thanksgiving Day as a day appointed for giving thanks for divine goodness.

Sometime around 1:30 p.m. this coming Thanksgiving afternoon, a head football coach at Mississippi Memorial Stadium will fix his eyes toward the heavens and thank the divine Deity for blessing his team with a victory while his opponent lies on the opposite side of the field, gaze upward and wonder why.

Probably an action of the divine will rather than a Memorial Stadium with sparkling steel and red and white seats and a crowd of predictions about the outcome of the game.

The game is the 30th meeting between two state rivals Jackson State and Alcorn State since 1949.

Kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m. Jackson State enters the game needing the win to solidify its fifth place ranking in the Division I-AA poll and very possibly earning an at-large berth in the Division I-AA playoffs.

Alcorn, 2-4 on the season, would like nothing better than playing the home role. The Braves, who lost their first three games, have won five of their last six including their last four straight.

Danny Cupit, chairman of the Mississippi Democratic Party, reports Randall G. Patterson of Jackson has been recommended by the party's administrative committee to be the new executive director of the Mississippi Democratic Party.

Cupit also said that State Representative Credell M. Calhoun has been recommended to be hired as a field coordinator for the party.

While the appointments of both men are subject to the final approval of the party's executive committee, they will assume their duties on Dec. 1.

The executive committee's next meeting is scheduled for mid-January. Patterson served as a coordinator of the Winter campaign phone banks in 1979 and as the director of the Carter campaign phone banks in 1980.

He joined the Winter administration last year in the Office of Planning and Policy.

Early this year he became an assistant to Governor Winter and serves as his liaison to the Southern Growth Policies Board.

Calhoun was elected to the Mississippi State Legislature from Jackson in 1979. He was a field coordinator for former President Carter in 1980 and for congressional candidate Britt Singletary in 1981.

Calhoun will take a leave of absence from the party during the regular session of the Legislature.

special education, and Title One and Four program funds, Sills said.

He said Title One money has been utilized to implement special reading programs and also hire teacher aids. Title Four funds have been used to purchase library supplies.

Sills was uncertain about the amount of money the Hancock district receives from the federal government for each of those programs. However, he expects the programs will be cut 25 percent over the next few years. He said those programs have already been cut five percent.

Sills said he thought the U.S. Department of Education would also be eliminated.

He said he learned that those department officials may be shifted into the U.S. Departments of Labor and Defense.

He said the the Mississippi Department of Education will receive a block grant directly from the government. Currently the money is channeled through the U.S. Department of Education to the school districts.

Sills noted this block grant procedure was used in the past.

"The big schools got all the meat and the smaller districts only got the dog bones," he said.

The board members appeared to look favorably on the proposed cuts and the creation of the large block grant.

Board member Woodrow Ladner said he approved of the block grant allocation.

"We would be able to get money with no strings attached," he said. Sills approved of the idea of states having more control over education.

He also said the block grant allocation would not necessarily mean the school district would receive less money than in the past.

"It would depend on how the people Jackson looked at it," he said.

"We may lose money in some areas, but in other areas we stand a chance of gaining some," he added.

Also the board discussed the zoning board's recommendation to change a lot of land located on Easterbrook Street and US-90 from R-1 to C-3.

Danny Dunaway and his wife told the board they would purchase the land only if the council agreed to changing the zoning.

They noted the land was being sold by Joseph Gex and Guy Billups.

Councilman James Thriffley said the council would rather wait until legal counsel was present before approving the change.

A possible conflict of interest was noted, but the council took no action to remedy the situation.

Also at the meeting, Ron Murray, of Murray Consultants, informed the board that the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has revised the income level for families eligible to receive grants for home improvements under the 1981 Small Cities Project.

Murray also noted the Department of Housing and Urban Development requested four changes in the project plan.

He said the citizens advisory committee is reviewing the request and stated he would have their recommendations available for the council's approval at the next meeting.

Once approved by the council, the plan will again be reviewed by HUD to receive final approval.

Woman sues Bay for car damages

By BRENT MACEY

A Waveland resident has filed a civil suit against the City of Bay St. Louis to recover $112 she claims she spent on repairing her car after striking two pot holes in the city.

Waveland Attorney Aaron Adams, representing Linda Penrose, filed the suit on his client's behalf Wednesday in Justice Court Judge John Chevis' office.

A hearing on the matter has been set for Tuesday at the Hancock County Courthouse.

Adams had requested the Bay St. Louis City Council pay the amount cited in the suit at a recent council meeting.

He told the council the pot hole resulted from "disrepair" of city streets and noted the city should be held liable. "The law is quite clear on municipal liability," he said.

He explained that Penrose struck a pot hole Aug. 13, some 100 yards off US-90 on North Beach Boulevard.

He claimed Penrose paid some $76 for damages at that time. Several weeks later his client hit another pot hole near the Bay Police Department on Old Spanish Trail, he said.

Adams claimed both pot holes were "unavoidable."

The attorney said a hole punched in his client's muffler had to be repaired, bearings needed to be repacked, and the car had to be realigned.

The damages from the two accidents totaled $112.

Councilman Gene Taylor suggested the council establish a policy never to make payments for damages caused by striking potholes.

"Potholes can occur overnight and we can't be responsible for all of the pot holes all of the time," he said.

The motion did not receive a second.

Councilman James Thriffley recommended the council take no action until the matter could be discussed with city attorney Joseph Gex.

Adams said, "I intend to pursue the matter through the courts if it is not settled amicably tonight."

This is the second incident in the last month in which the city has been requested to pay for damages.

Brenda Anderson, a Waveland resident, approached the council for her second time last month to request payment for repairs to her automobile.

She said a sign hanging on the door leading to a heating unit at the Valens C. Jones Building in Bay St. Louis fell off and damaged the front of her automobile in February.

She said she contacted city hall at that time and was told to leave two estimates.

Some three months passed before Anderson said she was informed that the estimates had been lost.

"In the meantime I had the car repaired," Anderson said.

The bill totaled $106. She claimed the door which the sign was attached to was hollow and had been eaten up by termites.

The council took no action in the October meeting and noted they wanted to talk with people in the Valens C. Jones building to determine if anyone knew the door needed repairing before the accident happened.

Anderson's bill was included on the city's October claims docket and was approved for payment at a council meeting Nov. 5.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES TIMOTHY KERSANAC

Musser, Etterle announce betrothal

Ron Leeper, brother of the bride, was best man. Bob Rose and Bob Jenkins were ushers.

The mother of the bride chose for the occasion a gown of persian blue with lace jacket, and orchid corsage. The groom's mother was attired in a gown of dusty rose trimmed with maribou fur. A white orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

A reception followed the ceremony featuring music and a champagne dinner.

Attending the guest register was Mrs. Sandy Francis, sister of the groom.

The bride's table held a four-tiered wedding cake trimmed in pale blue, centered with a bubbling fountain.

On return from a honeymoon cruise to Ensenada, Mexico, the couple will reside in Lakewood, Ca., where the groom is employed with Crown Loadings Co. in Paramount, Ca.

Military Mention

BERNELL HARRELL
A Hancock North Central High School senior, Bernell A. Harrell, son of Percy and Carrie Harrell of Pearlington, has enlisted in the U.S. Army under the Delayed Entry Program (DEP).
He will report to Ft. Benning, Ga., June 11 for basic training.
"Harrell enlisted as an infantryman. After he has completed basic training he will learn additional skills at Ft. Benning during advanced training, according to Army Recruiter Sgt. Barbara J. Winston.
After he has completed his training he will be assigned to aid Vacation Lane, William Britt, Pastor.
Harrell will be a 1992 graduate of Hancock North Central High School.
Under the Delayed Entry Program, individuals may join the Army and take up to 12 months to go on active duty. This allows enlistees to be more selective in the type of training they want and also permits them to finish school or work.
Further information about the Delayed Entry Program is available from Sgt. Winston at the Gulfport Recruiting Station, 2609 13th St. by calling 853-3850.

Gulf Coast DAR meets

The November 11 meeting of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the American Revolution Society Daughters of the American Revolution was held at noon at the Bonanza, Courthouse Road, Gulfport.

Members were greeted by host, George Alfred, who made the new meeting place a great success, according to a chapter spokesperson.

Mrs. James Coker, regent, led a special prayer in honor of all members, living and dead, of the armed forces on Veterans Day.

Treasurer, Mrs. Fred Siquel, gave a report on honor roll requirements and how the chapter planned to meet them.

Mrs. Roy Jones brought examples of goods sold by the chapter members for the benefit of the Helen Pouch memorial fund.

Mrs. Clyde Woodfield, chaplain, presented the program entitled "A Biblical Personage."

Her choice was "Moses" and her allocation discussed Moses' early life, his marriage and the leading of his people through all their trials and his death.

The next meeting will be held at noon, Dec. 9, at the Bonanza.

Members are encouraged to attend.

Mrs. Williams S. Murphy, state regent, will be guest speaker with a "Christmas" message.

Newcomers slate Christmas social

The regular luncheon meeting of the Newcomers Club was held at the Best Western on Nov. 10.

Joyce O'Keefe, of the Harrison County Extension Service gave a presentation on holiday preparations.

On Nov. 14, an International Dinner was held at the home of Rose and Bud Boudreaux of Pass Christian. The theme was Jewish.

On Nov. 17 Day Bridge was held at the Best Western. Jane Bussman and Audrey Hask were hostesses.

On Nov. 20, a social was given to a selected needy family, along with gifts which our club will buy.

On Nov. 18, the Garden Club met at the home of Gwendolyn Gsell, Long Beach. Dried flower arrangements were constructed.

On Dec. 8, the regular luncheon will be held at Gulf Hills, Ocean Springs. A special Christmas program will be presented by Linda B. Smith, of Ennis, entitled "Foods For Giving."

Members are asked to bring canned food, which will be given to a selected needy family, along with gifts which our club will buy.

Anyone wishing to bring a gift for the employees of the Goodwill Industries will be welcomed.

For reservation for luncheon call Audrey Hask at 832-8432.

On Dec. 10 we will have our Christmas Party at the Pass Christian Yacht Club. For reservations phone Muriel Burton, 832-8988.

Confederate rank and file honored at Beauvoir unveiling of Baxter Memorial

By ELLIQUUEVAS
A bronze and marble memorial honoring Marion Francis Baxter of Logtown in Hancock County was dedicated on the grounds of Beauvoir, The Jefferson Davis Shrine in Biloxi, Nov. 8 near the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

The memorial was unveiled by Baxter's only surviving child, Mrs. Otto E. Schupp, grandson J.C. Baxter and Joseph York Fettel. Baxter lived at the Confederate Soldiers Home at Beauvoir intermittently from June 1923 until his death at Logtown in 1928.

Baxter family members participating in the memorial dedication included grandson Leo W. Seal Jr., emcee; invocation by Mrs. Fred Wagner, granddaughter, Salute to the Confederate Flag by Mrs. Paul V. Lacoste, great-granddaughter; and benediction by Mrs. Dorothy Weston Robinson, granddaughter.

A wreath presentation was made by great-grandsons Leo Seal, great-grandsons Lionel Francis Baxter III and John Patrick Baxter.

Baxter joined the Confederate forces at Hansboro, Miss., at the age of 13 on May 6, 1861 with the Adams Rifles. He fought in major battles of the Civil War in Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee.

The confederate soldier was captured at Dover, Tenn., and served as a POW at Camp Douglas, Chicago.

He was released as an exchange prisoner at Vicksburg in 1862. The soldier then returned to battle until his surrender at Hamburg, S.C. on May 22, 1865.

The dedicatory address at the unveiling was given by his grandson Lionel Francis Baxter of Bay St. Louis.

In the memory of his grandfather, Lionel Baxter said, a biography is being written by a kinsman, Sam J. Ervin Jr., former North Carolina senator.

"Biographies of the military and naval chieftains of the Southern Confederacy abound. There is a paucity, however, of narratives which recount the wartime experiences of those who served in the rank and file," Ervin notes in his work.

DIRECT DESCENDANT—Mrs. Otto E. Schupp, center, is the only survivor of the ten children of Marion Francis Baxter, who was reared in the Pearlman-Logtown area and now resides in Hartsville, Tenn. Mrs. Schupp, nephew J. C. Baxter, left, and son Joseph York Fettel unveiled a bronze and marble

BAXTER DESCENDANTS—Among the Baxter descendants participating in the unveiling of the memorial in honor of Marion Francis Baxter, were from left, Robert Schupp Jr., J. C. Baxter Jr., Mrs. Paul V. Lacoste, Mrs. Leo W. Seal Jr., Lionel F. Baxter, Mrs. Fete Porter Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Allen Robinson, Mrs. Dorothy Weston Robinson, Joseph York Fettel, CONFEDERATE SON MEMORIAL—Leo Seal Jr. was the emcee for the unveiling of bronze and marble memorial in honor of his grandfather Marion Francis Baxter at Beauvoir, The Jefferson Davis Shrine. The memorial to Baxter is located next to the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The memorial was accepted by Col. Newton W. Carr Jr., superintendent of Beauvoir. (Photo by Ed Fayard Jr.)

BY DAVID H. JONES

Robert DeNiro: "Who Are You This Time?"

In his book "Welcome to the Monkey House," Kurt Vonnegut included a short story entitled, "Who Are You This Time?" In that story, Vonnegut profiled an actor who became so absorbed in his roles that he forgot who he was. In many ways, Robert DeNiro parallels that protagonist.

Robert DeNiro is probably the greatest screen actor that American cinema has ever produced. And although he has only been at the forefront of the thespian profession since the early '70s, his presence in over a half a dozen films has produced intensity beyond words, controversy and two Oscars.

DeNiro first appeared to audiences as a tobacco-chewing baseball catcher who was dying of cancer in the film Bang the Drum Slowly. Although the film did very little business, it provided a springboard for DeNiro's rare talents.

Following Bang the Drum Slowly, DeNiro worked for director Martin Scorsese in another small film called Mean Streets. This was to be the first in a series of serious collaborations between Scorsese and DeNiro.

Then the big break came. Francis Ford Coppola was making Godfather II and he wanted to show the godfather's early life in America, so he cast DeNiro in what had to have been the most difficult screen role in history—playing a young Don Vito Corleone.

Just two years earlier, Marlon Brando had won an Oscar for his portrayal of the mafia kingpin in The Godfather.

DeNiro turned out to be a superb choice. He went to Sicily and learned the language. He studied Brando's character in detail. The result was a tour-de-force performance that won DeNiro a best supporting actor award and Godfather II was selected as best picture.

After Godfather II, DeNiro went to work for Scorsese again in Taxi Driver. DeNiro drove a taxi in New York for six months preparing for the role.

By now, everyone knows the whole sordid story of how John Hinckley watched Taxi Driver over and over. And how he fell in love with Jodie Foster and went to shoot the president to "prove his love."

There is no doubt that Taxi Driver was a violent film, but it redeemed itself through its honesty and integrity. Taxi Driver wasn't just a "cool slasher" film; it explored and dealt with its characters no matter how unsavory they might have been.

The DeNiro-Scorsese team then hit with New York, New York, a light musical about the big band era. DeNiro learned how to play saxophone for this role.

The Deer Hunter followed. New York, New York. The Deer Hunter dealt with the effects of the Vietnam War on four young men from a Pennsylvania steel town. It sparked controversy from all angles, from its gruesome Russian roulette scenes to its ambiguous ending.

No matter what the controversy, no one faulted DeNiro's intense performance that garnered him still another academy award nomination.

But it wasn't until last year's Raging Bull that DeNiro finally won the prize he deserved. Directed by Martin Scorsese, DeNiro gave a brilliant performance as Jake LaMotta.

DeNiro portrayed LaMotta during his early fighting years, and he gained 40 pounds to play the role. DeNiro's performance in Raging Bull was a tour-de-force.

information was extraordinary! Today DeNiro can be seen, along with Robert Duvall, in True Confessions. True Confessions has DeNiro cast as a priest opposite Duvall's detective.

Although the story is severely flawed, it is still a pleasure to see DeNiro react on camera.

DeNiro is working with Scorsese (who, alas?) in a film entitled The King of Comedy. The picture will co-star Jerry Lewis and the popular rock group The Clash. If Robert DeNiro maintains this pace of diversity and intensity throughout his career, he could well become the greatest actor that the world has ever known!

THANKSGIVING PARADE—Members of the Masonic Lodge #1 of DeNiro participate in the First Annual Thanksgiving Festival Parade in Bay St. Louis last weekend. The parade started at City Hall and ended at Commager Park where games, food, carnival rides and music were featured during the two day event which was sponsored by the Hancock Chapter of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. UP AND AWAY—Moppets Telly and Harry Monster join forces to lift weights and deliver a lesson in cooperation to "Rob" (Bob McGrath), "Maria" (Sonia Manzano), and the children on the street during Sesame Street's 13th year on television. The new season begins Monday, November 23 on more than 270 public television stations across the country and can be seen at 7 a.m. Mondays through Fridays; at 11:30 a.m., Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; and at 4:30 p.m., Mondays through Fridays, on the Mississippi ETV Network, Ch. 18, Biloxi.

BRIDGE REPLACEMENT NEARING COMPLETION—Replacement of a bridge on Lagan Street in Shoreline Park just east of Hwy. 603 should be completed in about one week, says James Travira, Hancock County District Five supervisor. Some 1,000 Shoreline residents in the last few weeks have been utilizing a temporary bridge and detour to reach their homes. Viewing the final stages of construction work Monday morning are, from left, Mike Necaise, county clerk; Supervisors, Bert Courge of District One, Roger

Dale Latner of District Three and Travira; Andy Pressgrove of American United Products Corp. of Natchez; Supervisors A.A. (Dolph) Keller of District Two and also board president, and Sam Ferniclar of District Four; and Lawrence Seal of Piquette, county engineer. The concrete bridge on cross-tie piers will cost District Five's bridge construction fund $31,876 which includes $10,815 to American United and $21,061 to Crown Equipment Co. of Ray St. Louis for erection. Money Talk

By Norine Barnes

Money can take on new meaning when there are children in a family. To parents, it means added pressure on available income to cover greater needs. It also means concern for the children's developing attitude toward money.

Like other things, attitudes and habits concerning money are learned at an early age. Children begin to learn about money by observing how their parents feel about it. They notice whether parents argue or discuss calmly how it is to be spent, who pays the bills, and who keeps records.

This oversight role is a subtle but significant source of how a person feels about money throughout life.

Actions can speak louder than words in forming attitudes. Is money used as a bribe, reward, or means of control? Are material goods craved? Is there an effort to keep up with the Joneses? Is more emphasis placed on the cost of a gift than the feeling for giving it?

Having money of their own is a way children learn about its purpose and value. Parents use a variety of approaches to giving children money. Some give children money as requested—the dolé method. Some give them money regularly—the allowance method. Most authorities feel an allowance is a better teaching method. To be a good experience, these elements should be present:

—Set amount.
—Regular pay date.
—Discuss how much and when and what is to be covered.

—Some extra beyond necessities so child has something to manage with no strings attached.

—Not be tied to regular household work.

Guidance is helpful, but do not dictate. A child learns from his mistakes too.

Think before using money as a reward for good grades or doing housework. Children may get the idea that everyone and everything has a price tag. Deductions from an allowance as punishment can give the idea that people can buy their way out of a situation.

Parents whose "we can't afford it" answer to every request can lead children to feel that lack of money means no satisfaction.

Parents should remember that a child's attitude toward money is shaped by the example they set. If they are frugal, the child will learn to be frugal. If they are wasteful, the child will learn to be wasteful.

Parents should also remember that a child's attitude toward money is shaped by the example they set. If they are frugal, the child will learn to be frugal. If they are wasteful, the child will learn to be wasteful.

If a son wants to learn to play the guitar, perhaps he could be encouraged to take a part-time job, such as a paper route, to pay for the guitar and lessons himself.

A pitfall that some busy parents fall into is to use money to buy love or substitute for companionship.

The growth of a child's emotional stability is hindered with this kind of gift buying.

There is no substitute for parental love and companionship. Even though schedules are busy, some time should be devoted exclusively to the children.

What attitudes about money are your children learning from you?

use the kitchen range can help.

Many of the good practices listed below are things you already know, but if we made a habit of using them, the savings of gas and electricity would be tremendous.

Before turning on the oven, position the rack so it divides the oven in half. If you use two racks, divide the oven into thirds.

This simple little practice will insure proper oven ventilation and prevent prolonged cooking time.

Always try to use the recommended baking utensils in the oven. The size and shape of baking pans control not only the volume but the food texture.

Fewer spills, and therefore fewer oven cleanings, will occur when using the right sized pan. Remember, also, that when using glass or porcelain enamel baking utensils the oven temperature can be lowered 25 degrees.

When cooking meats in porcelain enamel roasting pans for long periods, you can lower the temperature by as much as 50 degrees. Your own trial and error can determine the best oven settings for you.

Since most commercial cleaners work best in a warm oven, instead of "heating up" to apply them, try "cooling down" to the right application temperature (which shouldn't be more than 200 degrees).

Statistics available on Smokeout

For the first time since the nationwide Great American Smokeout was launched in 1977, hard statistics have become available about its long-term effects.

The American Cancer Society, which has just concluded a follow-up study of participants in last year's Smokeout, is surprised and excited by the results.

The Smokeout was conceived as a light-hearted "fun" day on which cigarette smokers would be urged to give up the habit for only 24 hours.

The study shows that two out of five smokers sampled tried not to smoke on the day of the Smokeout. Of this group 49.2 percent made it successfully through the day, 12.9 percent didn't light up again for at least 3 months, 9.8 percent didn't smoke again for at least 6 months, and themselves and their friends that they could. However, the study just completed suggests that more than a million American adults who went without cigarettes for 24 hours also quit permanently on Smokeout day a year ago.

percent still weren't smoking more than 11 months later.

The Society obtained its figures last month by tracking down 432 adult smokers in 462 American households, all of whom had been included in a nationwide random sampling in the morning of the Smokeout in November, 1980.

Among smokers who elected not to participate in last year's Great American Smokeout, 11.6 percent reported that they subsequently tried to break the cigarette habit. Nearly all of them failed to do so, but 1.1 percent of the members of this group were still not smoking as recently as two weeks ago.

The 6.7 percent 11-month quit rate among those who tried to quit smoking on the day of the Smokeout was six times greater than the 1.1 percent 11-month quit rate among those who did not participate in the Smokeout.

As a gift of the imagination, U.S. Savings Bonds say more than "Merry Christmas."

Bonds say: "We believe in all your dreams and we're with you whatever you become."

SAVE MONEY WHILE YOU COOK
Cutting utility bills is a big concern these days. Learning to more efficiently

By Katy McGuire Caire

Though times and customs have changed mightily through the years, one tradition that remains more or less constant is turkey at Thanksgiving—the dish is loved at the feast.

Although its popularity has remained unchanged, the bird itself is a far gobbler from the tough, wild specimens of our forefathers—as we all know.

A great-grandmother could suddenly come back to the holiday dinner, she would never recognize the succulent, bread-basted bird of today compared to the one, which she struggled to make tender and tasty, could she?

How often today tell you how to cook your bird or what to stuff it with? For we all have our own ways handed down through the generations.

Except this little note is always a standard course atop the turkey, while the roasting, should I mention, is a fascinating distraction, you will make the omelette, which is a moderately heavy course. Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course. Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course.

Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course. Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course.

Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course. Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course.

Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course. Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course.

Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course. Then, the turkey, which is a moderately heavy course.

You will need at least a cup of the moist coconut flesh or canned, for this.

Remove all outer membranes of the oranges, after peeling them.

Cut into slices or sections. Layer in a large clear serving bowl (you can't borrow Mary's cut glass one, can you?) and sprinkle with powdered sugar, then with coconut.

Sprinkle orange juice over, then start all over again with the layer of oranges, sugar, coconut and juice—and fill another, if you've run out of the bowl or want a larger quantity.

Cover and refrigerate at least a few hours before serving. Some like to add cherries or green grapes or bananas for the ambrosia.

Some of Santa's Little Helpers won't have a Merry Christmas.

Unfortunately, it happens every Christmas Season. Shoplifters think they can save money on Christmas gifts by stealing. Others do it at a party. None think they'll get caught. But those who do get caught go to jail or pay a very high fine.

SHOPLIFTING IS A CRIME.

Some facts that will curl your hair
If you've been thinking about giving yourself a new hairstyle, you should know that hair is the only part of your body that grows back. It's also the only part that can be damaged by heat, chemicals, and over-styling. So, if you want to keep your hair looking its best, you need to take care of it. That's why we at REDKEN and RK have developed a line of hair care products that will help you keep your hair looking its best. 'Guys and Dolls' opening at Waveland Civic Center

The Waveland Players will be brightening up the holiday season with their production of 'Guys and Dolls,' opening Dec. 4 at the Waveland Civic Center.

'Guys and Dolls,' based on a story by Damon Runyon, was one of the all-time biggest hits on Broadway and can now be seen featuring many of the best Waveland area's most popular players.

Nathan Detroit (Frank Gray) and Sky Masterson (Tony Poffenberger), in search of a place to stage the oldest established permanent floating crap game in New York, are frequently sidetracked by Sister Sarah (Susan Smith) of the Save-A-Soul Mission and Miss Adelaide (a night club entertainer who's enjoying (?) a 14-year engagement to Nathan).

The show, produced by Terry Simpson, directed by Ed Ling, and Ted Stechmann, features Jean Keen and Dottie Overall as musical directors. The colorful cast of unforgettable characters includes Mike Handley, Ted Stechmann, Bunk Gardner, Terry Simpson, Brother Pierre, St. Pierre, John Haines, Dick Fitch, Ed Ling, and Judith Gray. Also, Danny Guilliams, Jannelle McClain, Piccola Dietrich, Tommy Fitch, Nina Simpson, Dottie Overall, Joe Overall, Michelle McMillan, Terri Quintini, Elizabeth Hart, Tammy Ellis, Nicola Dietrich, Eric Gray, Clifford Ling, J. P. Overall, Laura Guerrero, Jan Frommeyer, Barbara Purley, Alla Mae Lambert and Mack Herring.

And Janet Alma, Dave Johnson, Lori Ling, Derek Stechmann, Barbara Fitch, Russell Fitch, Jeanne Marie Bell, Charlie Cox, Ed Scanlan, Connie Ellis, Amy Fiedler, Amy Welch, Mary Ann Schmitt, Maria Elmer and Gary Elmer.

'Guys and Dolls' will be presented at the Civic Center Friday and Saturday, Dec. 4 and 5 at 8 p.m. and again Dec. 11 and 12 with a matinee at 3 p.m. Dec. 12. Tickets are $3 at the door.

Santa's arrival, official tree lighting to be sponsored by Hancock Chamber Santa Claus is coming to town!

Santa Claus will officially kick-off the Christmas season Sunday, November 23, at 4:30 p.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse, Main Street, Bay St. Louis.

Santa will arrive on a fire engine and will visit with all the children.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry

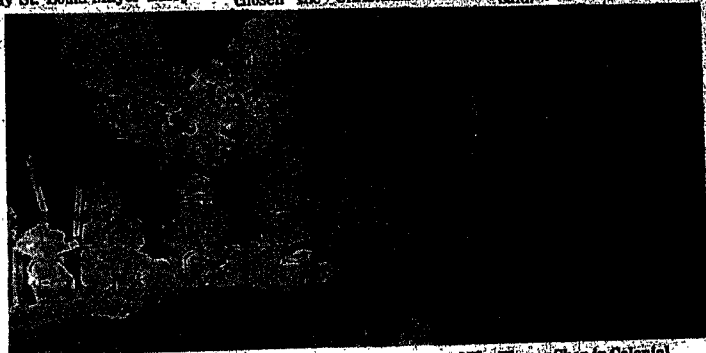

Bennett, Waveland Mayor John Longo and President of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors A. A. Keller will perform the official lighting of the Christmas tree.

Local bands and choral groups will also be on hand to provide musical entertainment.

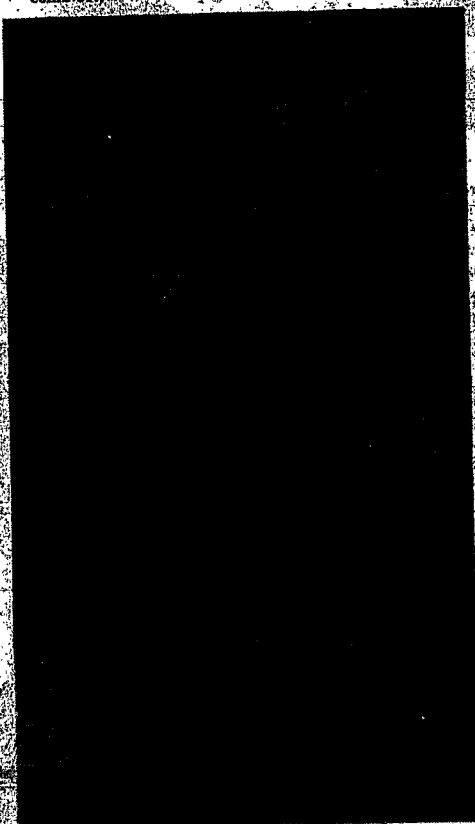

"The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce has chosen the Christmas tree lighting to begin the holiday season in the county, and we feel the unity of the twin cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, along with the county, signifies the unity of all of us during this holiday season," said Chamber President Dick Kosbab.

The public is urged to attend this event and bring the children to visit Santa, Kosbab said.

Whitfield needs Christmas gifts for patient sharing

As the Christmas season draws near, miraculously there seems to come a change in men's hearts. A spirit of warmth, love, and good will toward fellow men prevails, and people react in a way that is not evident at any other time of the year.

At the Mississippi State Hospital, volunteers and staff members work together to make this season happy and joyous for the patients.

Through the volunteer Services Department, citizens are given the opportunity to remember and share with friends through the "Every patient a gift project."

On Christmas morning every patient receives a beautifully wrapped package, made possible through the kindness of people throughout the state.

Almost any gift, especially those in plastic containers, is acceptable.

Remember! the patients like pretty things, too. Please do not send used articles.

Do not wrap gifts, as volunteers do this. We request that all packages be sent before Dec. 15 so that they may be appropriately selected and wrapped before Christmas.

Packages may be mailed to:

Volunteer Services Department
Mississippi State Hospital
Post Office Box 75
Whitfield, Mississippi 39193-0075

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS EDITION

SEA COAST ECHO—NOVEMBER 22, 1981-15

All about TOYS

CHECK YOUR CHRISTMAS LIST TWICE—
TOYS ARE FOR EVERYONE

It's difficult to imagine Christmas without children. And children without toys. Even Scrooge couldn't be so heartless. Yet nowadays, when Moms and Dads are checking their Christmas shopping lists for accuracy, they're checking it twice because toys aren't just for children anymore. Teens and adults are a growing part of the toy-buying, toy-playing market. This year, Santa and his elves will be busy filling gift orders for all kinds of toys for children of all ages.

According to Toy Manufacturers of America, Inc. (TMA), the toy industry trade association, there is a vast selection of toys on the market from which to choose. Not every toy will appeal to everyone, but you are bound to find a suitable plaything for that special someone on your holiday shopping list—from the tiniest infant to the senior citizen.

When shopping for play things, keep in mind the person's age and interests, and if you are buying for a child, his or her level of development. Use package age recommendations as a guide. Comparison shop as you would for other items and take advantage of sales and special promotions. Check your gift list against these suggestions from TMA:

Infants—Brightly colored rattles, mobiles, and soft, "clutchable" playthings like terry-cloth dolls and balls with chimes in them. Make sure all toys for infants are too large to be swallowed.

Toddlers—Activity toys such as ride-ons, push-pull or take-apart toys, simple musical instruments, large, non-toxic crayons and paints.

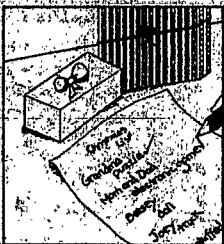

Three to Six—Masters of make-believe! Play money, toy phones, cash registers, dollhouse and furniture, miniature kitchen appliances, trucks, cars, boats, planes, dolls, stuffed animals, puppets.

Six to Nine—Board games, model kits, puzzles, roadracing sets, paint-by-number kits, fashion dolls and action figures.

Nine to Twelve—Hobby and craft kits, science toys, computer games, junior sports equipment.

Teens to Adults—Adventure, board, card and electronic games, jigsaw puzzles, collectible dolls and model cars, novelty-type stuffed animals.

So when you double-check your Christmas shopping list this year, remember: Toys like the holiday itself are for the child in all of us!

RELAXING IN COMFORT—Pleasure for a moment or relax in a La-Z-Boy recliner at Ruddy Whitfield of Bay St. Louis. Ruddy Whitfield Furniture located on US-90 in that city. The store recently received a large stock of these recliners for shoppers to consider as Christmas gifts. (Staff photo by Wayne Dacanin Jr.)

Belhaven College choir to present holiday event

The Belhaven College Concert Choir will present a Festival of Carols Sunday, Dec. 10, at 2:30 p.m. and at 8:15 p.m.

This presentation, according to Director of Choral Activities Peter Infanger, will be a Christmas celebration in song, with songs by the choir featuring a wide range of Christmas songs.

The choir will be joined by the audience in singing several carols and hymns.

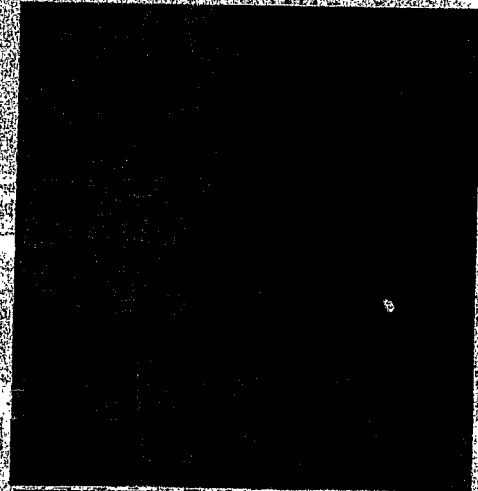

Music to be presented includes: "Gloria and Be Merry" (Jacques); "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel" (Willcocks); "Great and Mighty Wonder" and "Psalm 118" (Praetorius); "What Child is This?" (Hammerschmidt); "Coventry Carol" and "Away in a Manger" (Terri); "Manger Carol" (Cladwell); "Jesus Child" (Rutter); "The Virgin Mary Had a Baby Boy" (Elmer); "Deck the Hall" (Willcocks); "Twelve Days of Christmas" (Rutter); "The Virgin's Slumber Song" (Reger); "A Maiden Most Gentle" (Carter) and "Many Moods of Christmas" (Shaw and Bennett).

The audience will join the choir in singing "O Come, All Ye Faithful," "Come, Thou Long-expected Jesus," "What Child is This?" "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Angels We Have Heard on High" and "God Rest You Merry Gentlemen."

The public is invited to attend one of these performances. Families are especially encouraged to attend together. The festival will be held in Girault Auditorium of the Fine Arts Building on the college's Jackson campus. There is no admission charge.
